

Selfless Action Monthly Giving Program

ICISF provides CISM Education & Training to assist first responders, military, clinicians, etc. to provide them with the tools and techniques to deal with Critical Incident Stress.

Assist these first responders obtain the education and training they need to help themselves, friends, co-workers, or loved ones cope with Critical Incident Stress today by joining our Selfless Action Monthly Giving Program.

By supporting ICISF every month, not only are you supporting the first responders that encounter critical incidents every day, you are also helping ICISF to create new programs and training in Critical Incident Stress Management with the latest research and experience from those that respond worldwide. As a special thank you, we will ship a complimentary ICISF gift* to you to thank you for supporting ICISF and the first responders we continue to serve every year. *Complimentary Gifts will be shipped to individuals after 6 months of participation in the monthly Giving Program.
